Questions 51 to 55 carry ten marks each.

- 51. Read the passage below and then answer, in full sentences, the questions that follow.

When you visit Atapara Town, you will certainly be told about a rich young man called Ayoma. Ayoma went to Atapara Primary School. He lived with his parents who supported him in his studies. He was a humble and intelligent pupil whose parents were proud of. They had high hopes that their son would have a bright future.

Ayoma enjoyed carpentry in his schooldays. After doing his Primary Leaving Examination (PLE), he spent his vacation at his uncle's carpentry workshop. He helped his uncle plane and saw pieces of wood. When the results were released, he had passed with flying colours. He was very happy and so were his parents.

"You're going to join one of the best secondary schools in this country," his father said. "I'm proud of you my son."

"I see him as a future doctor," said his mother, with a smile.

To their shock, Ayoma told them about his dream occupation – carpentry. They were not amused and asked him to change his mind. But when he insisted, they threw him out of home. He began living with his uncle, the carpenter, who took him to Adilang Technical School a few weeks later. Ayoma was more than happy. While there, he learnt how to use various carpentry tools like hammers, screwdrivers and drills, among others.

On completing his course, he worked with his uncle for a while. He wanted to gain experience and also save some money. He worked so hard. You could easily see that he was in love with his work. When he had gained useful experience and saved enough money, his uncle allowed him to start his own carpentry workshop.

Today, he employs more than twenty young men and women at his workshop. Many people, institutions and organisations buy all kinds of furniture they want from him. He supports his brothers and sisters by paying their fees in some of the best schools in the country. His parents and many other people now believe that earning a living by doing what you love is the route to success.

Before my coming,
You walked long distances
And wrote lots of letters.
Today, loved ones are just a call away.

Newspapers, almost a thing of the past,
Just come to me for news updates.
Heaps of books, gone for good,
I'm the leading source of knowledge.

Sending and receiving money?
Distance is no longer a problem.
Keeping your money safe?
I'm the safest place for money to stay.

Handle me like an egg
And feed me regularly,
I'll forever be
Your closest friend.

SECTION B: 50 MARKS

Questions 51 to 55 carry ten marks each.

51. Read the passage below and then answer, in full sentences, the questions that follow.

Lolo and Jemba were two great friends. They went to Mushanga Primary School. In this school, lunch was only for those whose parents had contributed towards their feeding.

One Friday afternoon, Jemba got so hungry that his stomach began making continuous long deep sounds. He hadn't carried anything to eat while at school that day. Lolo heard the sounds that came from his friend's stomach and sympathized with him.

"Let's go to the trading centre and buy something to eat," he said with a smile. "I have got some money."

"Wow!" Jemba said. "I'll give you a lift on my bicycle."

Unlike Jemba's parents, the parents of Lolo, once in a while, at least gave their son some money. With this money, he could buy pancakes, buns and some juice to have as lunch. He often shared this so-called lunch with his best friend.

With Lolo sitting on the carrier, Jemba got on his bicycle and rode off. The speed at which he rode was very high. He was very excited. Besides, he wanted to get back to school in time for the afternoon lessons. It was a busy road and, as Jemba sped up, he kept ringing the bicycle bell. Unfortunately, he lost his balance and they both fell off the bicycle. Lolo suffered a leg injury while Jemba had a fractured hand.

They were lucky that some passers-by rushed them to a nearby clinic. They then rang their head teacher who immediately arrived at the clinic. She thanked the nurses for treating the boys. She then informed the boys' parents about the accident.

Three weeks later, after Lolo and Jemba had got better, they returned to school. The whole school was so pleased to see them. The head teacher, however, warned all pupils against leaving school without permission. She also held a meeting with all parents to discuss the issue of school meals. Today, all pupils have lunch at school. It is not surprising that their academic performance has greatly improved.

Examination, a friend
But a terrible animal as well
Sleepless nights I spend
As I try to prepare for you.

Before I meet you,

So as not to fear you
But to defeat you and get a good grade.

On your special day that I face you,

Giving out and collecting papers, their duty.

SECTION B: 50 MARKS

Questions 51 to 55 carry ten marks each.

51. Read the passage below and then answer, in full sentences, the questions that follow.

Berabera Town Council is one of the busiest places in our district. It is the only town council where there are two market days in a week – Tuesday and Saturday. On these days, it is full of people.

A few years ago, people were throwing away plastic materials just anywhere and anyhow. Nobody minded about the proper disposal of these materials. Two friends, Mujuni and Ateyot, were however, not pleased with this. They had learnt from their teachers how dangerous such materials are to people and their environment.

First, the materials do not decay, so they destroy the soil by preventing air and water movements. Secondly, they may contain water in which mosquitoes lay eggs. Thirdly, they make the environment look ugly.

The two friends had also learnt that a number of items could be made out of these materials. They learnt this when they had an educational tour in Jinja.

One Saturday morning, Mujuni and Ateyot decided to move from place to place, picking plastic materials. This shocked the residents. They thought the two friends had gone mad. For sure they had seen only mad people do such a thing. Even their own parents were shocked to see them.

"What's the matter with the two of you?" Ateyot's father asked. "This is so embarrassing!"

Ateyot smiled and asked her father to wait and see. In fact, they knew what they were doing. A few days later, they began making items out of the plastic materials they had collected. They made bags, mats, dolls, sandals, toy cars and belts, which they sold and earned money. With their earnings, they bought waste bins which were placed at most shops and stalls. They also bought tree seedlings which they distributed to communities around.

Today, everybody is happy with the two friends. Last week, the area Member of Parliament visited the town council. She donated two million shillings to them. When she was invited for a talk show on Rock FM, she declared Mujuni and Ateyot heroes. She advised the youth in the district to wake up and protect their environment.

Surrounded by a beautiful hedge,
And with classrooms
Spacious enough and kept neat.

With knowledgeable and friendly teachers
Teaching us in two languages,
Our local language and English.

When our teachers make learning
Really enjoyable for us all.

And have fun
As you study different subjects,
Come and have the best education.

SECTION B: 50 MARKS

Questions 51 to 55 carry ten marks each.

51. Read the passage below and then answer, in full sentences, the questions that follow.

Preparations for our school-leavers' party were on. First, we had a meeting. In that meeting, we agreed to hold our party in Tropical Hotel on the last Friday of October. The other agreement was that we would invite all our teachers to the party. We also agreed that each one of us would pay ten thousand shillings to attend.

A few days to the party however, only one pupil called Katana had not paid. Her uncle, with whom she lived, had gone to the village to attend to his sick father. We all felt sorry for her. Katana was a very disciplined and intelligent girl. When she was our head girl, everyone at school liked her. Fortunately, our class monitor came up with an idea. He requested us to raise some money for Katana to attend the party. He also talked to Mrs. Kole, our class teacher, about the issue. Thankfully, she gave us five thousand shillings. We then raised the balance.

On the day of the party, we reached the hotel at midday. Smartly dressed waitresses welcomed us.

"Who's the master of ceremonies of the day?" one of them asked us.

Unfortunately, we had forgotten to identify a master of ceremonies (MC) in our meeting. The class monitor therefore requested Katana to be the MC of the day. We all jumped up and down with excitement. Soon, the waitresses led us to a hall decorated with flowers and balloons. There was soft music playing. Speaking into the microphone, Katana asked us to take our seats. She then read the day's programme and advised us to behave ourselves.

At two o'clock, our lunch was ready. After our teachers had been served, the MC asked us to line up. As usual, some of us had no manners. We did not want to make a line and we poured soup on ourselves. However, at the end of it all, everybody was happy. We thanked the hotel management for their service. In a special way, the class teacher thanked Katana for managing the party well. She also wished us success in our final examinations.

Any kind of misbehaviour
Leads you nowhere.
Nobody will make friends with a thief,
No one will become a friend of a liar or a bully
Nor will anyone be happy with a failure.

Behave well brother, sister
And you will receive blessings
From parents, neighbours, friends, teachers
And above all, my dear,
Blessings from the Creator.

Brother, sister,
Those you share a class with,
Are they good or bad?
Are they guiding or misleading you?
If bad and misleading, stay away from them.

Primary seven pupils and their teachers sat under a mango tree in the school compound. They started to discuss activities they would do in the holidays to earn some money. Kato Allan was the first to speak. He said that he was going to make pancakes and sell them to their neighbour's children. His aunt taught him how to make pancakes during COVID-19 lockdown.

Lokaris said that he was going to weave mats and baskets. The sell them in the market every Saturday. When he was asked about the source of materials, he answered that his mother would be of great help.

Nyaps reported that when she was in Primary Five, she learnt knitting and making other crafts from her sister. They would make bags and decorate them with beads. So, Nyaps was going to make small bags for pupils to put their pencils, pens, note books and other things.

Amooti was already a known artist in the school. He informed the class about drawing pictures of people washing hands, sanitising and social distancing while wearing masks. His art teacher would sell the pictures to schools and markets. "I want to sensitize people about the COVID-19 pandemic", Amooti said. The classmates were very excited about his idea.

One of the teachers asked Ibra, the soft spoken boy in the class, what his plans were. He answered that he was going to help his father to sell in the family shop. He wanted to improve on his counting skills.

Relatives, in-laws, neighbours,

51. Read the passage below and then answer in full sentences the questions that follow.

One day, my father talked on his mobile phone for a long time. His airtime got used up before he could end his talk. He was conversing with his workmate, Mr. Obadiya. He decided to send me to buy more airtime.

Using my bicycle, I rode as fast as a horse. I returned within ten minutes with airtime. When I reached home, I found my father busy listening to the news on a radio. He was so attentive that he didn't want any disturbance. He therefore, gave me the mobile phone to load the airtime for him.

I was very excited because I was going to do so for the first time. I got the airtime card and scratched it. Since I did not know what to do after scratching, I opened the phone. I placed the airtime card between the phone and the battery. I closed the phone. Then I took it to my father thinking that I had done the right thing.

My father immediately tried to call his friend. He dialled repeatedly but the call could not go through. "Have you loaded the airtime?" he asked me. I responded happily that I had loaded it. He thought that his phone had got a problem. Then he switched off to open it. As he removed the battery, the airtime card dropped on the floor. "Oh my son! You didn't know how to load airtime!" he laughed. I was disappointed that I did not load airtime for my father. He realized that I was sad. He held me in his arms and said, "don't worry my son. Let's do it together." Then he loaded as I was watching. I was very happy to learn how to load airtime.

Kachinga Village,

Mawundo.

2nd November, 2018

Dear Mummy,

I am pleased to write to you again after such a long time. How are you and how is work in Nairobi? Back here, we are alright and I am preparing for Primary Leaving Examination (PLE).

Mummy, I am writing to inform you that our school has successfully registered us for PLE 2018 and we are very happy. Now, I am ready to sit for the Primary Leaving Examination. Infact, all the candidates have been briefed by our head teacher, Mr. Kato Joseph.

During the briefing he said, "All of you should take note of the PLE timetable. This will help you to know how the subjects have been arranged." He also emphasized that we should read the general instructions carefully and those inside the question paper. After that, the head teacher gave a chance to P.7 teachers to brief us too. Mrs. Okelly, our class teacher advised on filling in information on the first page carefully. She also told us to read each question twice, understand and then answer what is required.

The other three teachers talked about writing our responses in the space provided in the question paper. They encouraged us to have confidence in ourselves. They added that all the questions set are within the curriculum. They warned us against any kind of examination malpractice.

Mummy, the teachers also reassured us that we shall pass with flying colours. I am ready and revising seriously following the timetable. Pray for me not to forget what I was taught.

Please. Send my regards to my little brother Jatel Anthony. I wish you all the best while doing your work.

Holidays, sweet holidays!
The time everybody needs,
After hard and serious work,
To rest and feel fresh again.

Holidays, sweet holidays!
That precious time for teachers and pupils,
Keep away from books,
And celebrate success.

Holidays, sweet holidays!
Rest time for the public and civil servants,
To stay home and relax,
Labour Day, Women's Day, Independence Day.

Holidays, sweet holidays!
For believers to thank and praise God,
For His wisdom, mercy and kindness,
Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays.

52. Read the passage below and answer the questions that follow in full sentences.

Last term, Malindo Primary school held an election. Ms Dorothy Awor, the chairperson of the school electoral commission, organised the elections. She pinned the list of posts on the notice board. She asked the pupils to apply for the posts. Many pupils applied including a well-known boy, Bouncer Bino also known as BB. He was known in the school because of his pride. He applied for the post of head boy. As soon as the BB handed in his application, he changed his style of walking.

Friday was the day of general campaigns. The chairperson called candidates to address the pupils. When BB was called upon, pupils cheered him “Our boy BB! Our boy BB!” However, he was disturbed by something: he had no money to please his supporters.

When he returned home that evening, he asked his dad for some money for the campaigns. BB was very excited when his dad gave him some money. He bought sweets, pancakes, buns and gave them quietly to every pupil he believed was his supporter. On the day of the elections, the head teacher, Mr. Matovu was there to monitor the process. He wanted to ensure that there was no rigging. Indeed, there was free and fair elections.

When Ms Dorothy Awor announced the results, a very humble boy who did not spend money was elected head boy. Bouncer Bino, had lost. He was very disappointed and so were his parents.

In our sub-county, there are two activities done every day. These are farming and business. Most people are farmers. They grow different crops and rear chicken, goats and cattle. Men and women are both involved in the business. They sell different items including foodstuffs and animal products from their farms.

Mr. Amooti is among the well-known businessmen in the area. He has the biggest shop. In his shop, there is a variety of items. Some are weighed in kilograms like sugar, maize, flour, rice, beans and groundnuts. Others are packed in bottles, tins or packets like juice, soda, water, shoe polish, salt and baking flour.

If anyone needed paraffin or cooking oil, these would be measured in litres. They are also measured in small quantities as a person may require. There is hardly anything a person may want for home use that is not in Mr. Amooti's shop.

In order to serve his many customers well, Mr. Amooti has employed some workers to help him. They all serve with a smile. More so, items in his shop are cheaper compared to those from other shops. When children go to buy from his shop, he sometimes gives them sweets. It is a reward for choosing to buy from his shop.

He has the biggest number of customers in the area. He earns a lot of money too. Other shopkeepers have copied some of his ways in order to maintain their businesses.

To be free from diseases, people should avoid disease vectors like rats, mosquitoes, fleas and others. The disease vectors spread malaria, cholera, typhoid and dysentery. We pray for peace.

Peace in homes, schools

Peace for the whole world

Without peace there is fear

To be slaughtered

We need protection

From all forms of crimes

For, with love and care

Our community will shine.

SECTION B

51. Read the passage below and then answer, in full sentences, the questions that follow.

My name is Nakato and I am a Primary Seven candidate in Piri Boarding Primary School. I have a short story to with fellow candidates.

Last year, during the second term holiday, my mother sent me to the market. She wanted me to buy a pumpkin. I asked Bruno, my half-brother, to come along with me. A short distance away from home, we met an old man. He was carrying a bag made out of dry palm leaves. He looked a very poor old man from a village. He smiled and greeted us. Bruno answered but I kept quiet. I did not like the way he was dressed. He then asked us to direct him to the house of a lawyer, Mr. Mutebi. I never wanted Bruno to direct him to our home but he did. This hurt me so much that I felt like fighting Bruno. He told that it was bad manners to treat strangers like that.

Immediately we got back home, my mother welcomed us. She was very happy to have a visitor. The visitor was the old man we had met on the way. She asked us to greet him. Bruno went immediately and shook his hand. I pretended that I was taking the pumpkin to the kitchen. My mother was very angry with me. She asked if that was the kind of respect I showed to elders. She continued to shout at me saying that the old man was my grandfather. "Calm down my daughter, Nakato has heard", said the old man. He then picked a watch from his old bag and handed it to my half-brother. "Bruno, may God bless you, my grandson," he said.

Oh my God! I missed a very beautiful watch. I was ashamed before my mother and grandfather too. Fellow candidates, I advise you to always respect elders. It is also important to help and direct strangers. Always respect, love and care to everyone.

Zawadi was woken up by the loud crowing of a cock in the neighbourhood. She sat on her bed and this time, forgot to pray, like she used to do. She jumped out of her bed only to realize that everybody was still asleep. She tip-toed to her parents' bedroom. Just at the door way, she heard some snoring. This confirmed her expectation. "Now is the chance to let everybody know that I can wake up before them," she said to herself happily.

In a few minutes she was already dressed and set for school. Opening the door quietly, she got out. She started her journey to school. She was surprised walking for some distance without meeting anybody. This didn't scare her. She was surprised walking for some distance without meeting anybody. This didn't scare her. She continued with her journey until she met a man. The man looked unkind but proved to be kind when he asked to give her a lift on his bicycle. Zawadi accepted and thanked him.

The man rode very fast and even faster towards the school. She told the man that he had passed the school but he pretended not to have heard. The louder she shouted, the faster he rode. Zawadi realized that she was in danger. She immediately prayed to God and contained her tears. When they reached a trading centre and saw some people, she shouted for help "This man is kidnapping me! Kidnapping me! Kidnapping!" she shouted. People at the trading centre started running after them. Those who had bicycles rode faster after him. Finally, they caught up with him. The man realizing danger, abandoned the bicycle and fled for his life.

The strong men ran after him while women remained with Zawadi listening to her story. Luckily enough, the man caught and brought back to the trading centre. He was handed over to police. Birds are singing in the forest

And leaves are all shaking, in the Sun.

But I'm crying simply crying,
For the lesson to end.

When I am old, not strong,
When I am at school, no longer,

Waya Primary school is a day school in the middle of Seseme Village. In this school, lunch is given only to those pupils whose parents have paid lunch money.

One day, four boys and three girls studying in this school started their journey home. It was after the afternoon classes. None of their parents had paid the lunch money. These children were hungry and weak. On their way, they saw a mango tree with some ripe fruits on it.

"I am hungry. Why don't we visit that mango tree for fruits?" Bruno, one of the boys asked. "Yaah" his friend Robert shouted excitedly. The rest including the girl's supported the idea.

All the seven of them approached the tree. They saw the ripe fruits. They started to throw some stones at them. One of the girls, Kawudha, said, "I see a bee-hive on that big branch." "We shall not climb but just throw stones. Make sure you don't disturb the bees," Robert said.

They started throwing stones at the ripe mangoes. Some mangoes fell on the ground. Unfortunately, quite a number of mangoes fell on the bee-hive. The boys and girls started collecting mangoes which had fallen.

On the ground, suddenly, a swarm of bees rushed out of the beehive. The bees attacked all of them. Each one of them was running towards the road. The bees followed them and slung everyone. They threw away all the ripe mangoes they had picked.

"Fall down and cover yourselves with grass!" shouted Mathew. All of them did so. After a few minutes the bees went back to their beehive. The girls remained on the ground crying. The boys called the girls as they were removing the grass from their bodies. They continued their journey home. Their mouths, hands, eyes, noses, ears and other parts of their bodies were all swollen.

When they reached home, their parents saw the way each one of them looked. They were sorry for their children. One Saturday, I went with my brother to Biraga market which is one of the biggest in our sub-county. I had a duck which uncle Opoya gave me when it was a duckling. I went to sell it so as to buy myself a pair of shoes for Christmas. Mother took a goat for sale so as to purchase various items for the big occasion.

On our way, we met farmers and traders bringing different items to the market. By ten O'clock, we had reached the market.

At the market entrance, there was a rope stretching from one side to the other. This blocked people from entering the market directly. Mother had to pay some coins to the gentleman who later allowed us in. Many others people were already at the market with different commodities heaped on the ground and others were in the stalls. Some traders sang a songs to attract as many customers as possible. I stood still listening and enjoying the interesting songs. We sat down in tree shade and waited anxiously for customers. Some customers tried to bargain but mother did not want to sell her goat for anything less than what she wanted. Later, a young man bargain and offered her fifty thousand shillings which she accepted.

Sometime later, I sold my duck for fifteen thousand shillings only. We then moved through the crowd. Mother held me by the arm and we went to the place where the shoes were being sold. She helped me to make a choice. I was very happy to get my first pair of shoes in life. I then paid ten thousand shillings leaving me with a balance of five thousand.

Mother used some of her money to buy meat, plates, sugar, salt and tomatoes. She kept the remaining amount in her handbag. We then moved happily back home.

Nante is a Hima girl. Like other Hima girls, she looks after her father's cattle during holidays. This activity keeps her out of home from morning to dusk. One morning, Nante could not find her skin sandals. This type of sandals is worn by cattle herders to guard their feet against thorns and sharp stones. She therefore went barefoot to the grazing area.

Nante is a person who enjoys her job, but on this particular day, it was different. Her feet were badly pricked by thorns. Worse still, they were hurt by sharp stones too. As a result, she could not move anymore so sat under a tree to rest and fell asleep.

The cattle were grazing near a maize garden. They invaded this garden and destroyed part of the crops.

At this time, the owner of the garden noticed the animals. He rushed to the scene but it was too late to save part of his crops. He was too shocked to say a word! He angrily chased the animals out of the garden.

Nante was immediately awoken by the footsteps of the running cattle. She then asked him where he was taking the animals. Without a word, the angry man hit her with a stick and she collapsed "So, these are your cattle?" he asked "Look at my garden!"

Nante realized her mistake and painfully said, "Excuse me sir, I am sorry. Look at my feet full of thorns. They are so painful that I am unable to run after the animals. My sandals got lost at home. Please forgive me."

"So it is you inside my trap!" the man said.

"Please let me out! ", the snake cried.

"I've got you this time!" said the man, as he started looking for a big stick.

"Please, don't kill me!" if you let me out, we shall be good friends," said the snake.

"If I let you out of the trap, will you promise that you won't bite me?" asked the man.

"I promise! I promise that I won't bite you. You will be very safe if you let me of this dangerous trap," replied the snake.

"Alright, I'll let you out," said the man.

"Let's do this: Could you set the trap again and let me see exactly how the snake got caught in it?" Mr. Rat asked the man.

"Yes, I'll do that" replied the man as he set the trap again.

"Now, my friend, Mr. Snake, get in and let's see how you got caught in this trap." Mr. Rat said politely. The snake agreed and entered the trap. Once more, he was unable to escape.

"There you are," Mr. Rat told the man.
