Questions 51 to 55 carry ten marks each.

51. Read the passage below and then answer, in full sentences, the questions that follow.

If all that was said about Mkwasi was to be believed, the police would imprison him.

Mkwasi always lived with his old poor parents who couldn't afford two meals a day. They always struggled to sustain their lives. There was little to eat, no money to buy clothes, pay school fees for their three children, and above all their small hut, in which they slept, was leaking.

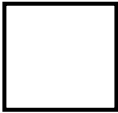

With the little they had, their eldest son, Mkwasi decided to look around for casual work in their neighbourhood. He could dig in their gardens, wash their clothes and also help them work in their compounds. By doing all this, Mkwasi could gather some money to buy food for his family, pay his siblings' school fees, and buy some necessities for his family members.

His parents were very grateful for all that he could do for them. Mkwasi's fellow youths could not believe what they heard about him in the whole village of Mayimbwe. They thought he stole money to be able to do all that.

On hearing what was said about Mkwasi, the residents quickly dismissed all the rumours against him maintaining that he was just hardworking and go-getter who always toiled to make life easy. Everyone in the village decided to raise some money for Mkwasi's family to build them a house, and also start an income-generating business to sustain their family and live a happy life.

- (j) Why do you think Mkwasi's family can sustain themselves?

52. Read the poem below carefully and then answer, in full sentences, the questions that follow.

Have you been to a bank?
And realized the various purposes it serves
Keeping and lending money to people
All according to their needs.

Did you know the smart ladies and gentlemen?
Talking softly behind decorated counters
Helping us to deposit and withdraw our money
And teaching us more about the bank services.

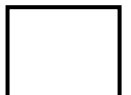

Just open up an account in the bank
Then you will deposit and withdraw money
Carefully handle your money to and from the bank
Conmen ready to trick you and take it.

With the bank, businessmen enjoy
Development has been realized through the loans
With little interests charged
Students, school fees loans available; your future made bright.
