Egyptians made some art forms in form of sculpture, architecture, painting and pottery and one of the art forms is shown below

Task

As an artist appreciate and describe the art form above in terms of theme, materials, characteristics and the importance of the sch art works and in the Ugandan context, advise the contemporary artists what they can borrow from these Egyptian artworks.

Item 2

In the Ancient Greek period, artists made different art works, they used different tools and materials got from their environment. The activities carried out in their community guided them on which type of works they produced. The art works made, would even show the different periods they had gone through, most of the art works were decorative and some functional.

However, today's artists, many of them produce decorated art works, the works are not functional, and they simply produce works for their economic values as seen in fig 3.
