SECTION A

Answer all items in this section

ITEM 1

A Christian community in Karamoja Sub-region has recently experienced prolonged drought, livestock deaths, food shortages and increasing insecurity. Many families have lost their livelihoods and some community members have started questioning God's love and faithfulness. Others have abandoned prayer and worship, while a few have resorted to consulting traditional diviners and fortune tellers in search of solutions.

Church leaders have continued encouraging believers to trust in God, remain faithful in worship and support one another during difficult times.

Tasks

(a) Using teachings from the Pentateuch, explain how members of the community can maintain their covenant relationship with God during the challenges they are facing.

(b) Examine the lessons from Psalm 22 that can help believers remain faithful during suffering.

(c) Assess the teachings from the Book of Job that are relevant to the situation presented above.

ITEM 2

Grace Fellowship Church has recently experienced leadership conflicts. Some church leaders misuse church resources for personal benefit, favour wealthy members and ignore the needs of vulnerable believers. A number of church workers have become dishonest and unaccountable, causing many Christians to lose confidence in church leadership.

At the same time, a group of committed believers has called for leadership reforms based on biblical principles of service, justice and accountability.

Tasks

(a) Explain the lessons modern religious leaders can learn from the priestly leadership during the Theocratic Period in Israel.

(b) Assess the failures of leadership during the Monarchical Period in Israel that are reflected in the scenario above.

(c) Examine the role of prophets in promoting justice and accountability in society.

(d) Advise church leaders on how biblical teachings about leadership can help restore confidence among believers.

ITEM 3

Sarah was commissioned by her church to serve as a missionary in a remote district. She organized Bible study groups, visited the sick, supported vulnerable families and encouraged young people to participate in church activities.

As her ministry expanded, some community members opposed her work, insulted her publicly and threatened her safety. Feeling frustrated, she responded with anger and abandoned her ministry station.

Church leaders later reminded Sarah about the example of Jesus Christ and the commitment demonstrated by members of the Early Church.

Tasks

- (a) Relate Sarah's ministry experiences to the life and ministry of Jesus in the Gospels.
- (b) Examine how the conduct of Jesus differs from Sarah's behaviour in the scenario.
- (c) Assess the contributions of the Early Church in spreading Christianity despite opposition.
- (d) Explain the teachings from the Epistles that can guide Christians facing hostility and persecution.

SECTION B

PART I

Answer one item only

ITEM 4

Several married couples in Kibaale District have reported increasing cases of domestic violence, unfaithfulness, poor communication and interference from relatives. Church leaders have organized family seminars to strengthen marriages and promote responsible parenting.

Some elders have also emphasized the importance of cultural values that support family stability and social harmony.

Tasks

- (a) Assess the Christian teachings on marriage that can help address the challenges presented above.
- (b) Examine the responsibilities of husbands and wives in promoting family stability.
- (c) Analyse the African Traditional values of marriage reflected in the scenario.
- (d) Suggest practical measures for strengthening marriage and family life in contemporary society.

OR

ITEM 5

In a rapidly growing town, many young people spend most of their leisure time in gambling centres, betting shops, video halls and social media platforms. Cases of drug abuse, school dropout, theft and irresponsible behaviour have increased significantly.

Religious leaders and community elders have encouraged the youth to use their leisure time productively through sports, community service, worship, talent development and income-generating activities.

Tasks

- (a) Assess the Christian teachings on responsible use of leisure.
- (b) Examine the effects of misuse of leisure among young people.
- (c) Analyse African Traditional attitudes towards work and leisure.
- (d) Suggest practical measures for promoting responsible use of leisure among the youth.

PART II

Answer one item only

ITEM 6

Residents of a district have become concerned about increasing cases of corruption, theft, domestic violence, land grabbing and abuse of vulnerable persons. Some community members have resorted to mob justice and unlawful punishments instead of reporting offenders to relevant authorities.

Religious leaders have called for respect for human dignity, rule of law, justice and peaceful conflict resolution.

Tasks

- (a) Analyse the Christian teachings on justice and human relationships.
- (b) Examine the causes of the challenges presented in the scenario.
- (c) Assess the role of law in promoting justice and social order.
- (d) Suggest measures that can help communities promote justice and peaceful coexistence.

OR

ITEM 7

Two neighbouring countries have been involved in a prolonged conflict over ownership of a border region rich in natural resources. The conflict has resulted in loss of life, displacement of people, destruction of property and violation of human rights.

Religious leaders, regional organizations and international agencies have appealed for dialogue, reconciliation and peaceful settlement of disputes.

Tasks

- (a) Analyse the Christian teachings on peace, reconciliation and forgiveness.
- (b) Assess the effects of armed conflict on individuals, communities and nations.
- (c) Examine the role of international organizations in promoting peace and justice.
- (d) Suggest measures that can help resolve the conflict peacefully and promote lasting international cooperation.
