SECTION A

Item 1

On 15th March 2026, the Department of Religious Studies at Kyambogo University organized a public lecture on revealed scriptures and their significance in guiding humanity. During the lecture, Dr. Yusuf Kato explained that Allah revealed several scriptures to different prophets, including Suhuf (Scrolls), Tawrah, Zabur, Injil and finally the Holy Qur'an. He further stated that while previous scriptures were meant for particular communities and periods, the Qur'an was revealed as the final guidance for all mankind. Some participants raised questions about the relationship between the Qur'an and earlier scriptures, while others wanted to understand why Muslims consider the Qur'an unique among all revealed books.

The discussion generated great interest among students who were asked to research the Islamic position and make presentations during the next seminar.

Task

Prepare an essay explaining the concept of revealed scriptures in Islam, highlighting their importance, the relationship between the Qur'an and previous scriptures, and why Muslims regard the Qur'an as the final and preserved revelation.

Item 2

In April 2026, the Uganda Muslim Education Association (UMEA) organized a National Islamic Knowledge Exhibition at Old Kampala Secondary School. One of the major themes was "The Preservation of the Holy Qur'an Throughout History."

Your school was selected to present on this theme. Visitors at the exhibition include religious leaders, education officials, students, researchers and members of the public. Many visitors wish to understand how the Qur'an has remained unchanged despite the passage of more than fourteen centuries.

Task

Prepare a presentation explaining the factors that have ensured the preservation, authenticity and continuity of the Holy Qur'an from the time of revelation up to the present day. Support your answer with relevant evidence and examples.

Item 3

On 20th February 2026, Makerere University hosted a National Interfaith Dialogue involving representatives from various religious communities including Muslims, Christians, Traditional African believers, Hindus and individuals who identify as non-religious. The theme of the dialogue was "The Understanding of God in Different Religious Traditions."

As one of the Muslim representatives, you have been requested to explain the Islamic concept of Tawhid (Oneness of Allah) and its significance in shaping the beliefs and practices of Muslims. Participants are particularly interested in understanding how Islamic monotheism differs from other religious concepts of God.

Task

Prepare an essay for presentation at the dialogue explaining the Islamic concept of Tawhid, its categories, importance, practical implications and its distinction from other beliefs about God.

Item 4

In January 2026, community leaders in Mbale District sought guidance on several legal disputes affecting social harmony. The district Qadhi was presented with three cases:

- (i) A businessman was accused of stealing a large amount of money from a registered cooperative society.
- (ii) During a land dispute, one resident seriously injured another, resulting in permanent physical disability.
- (iii) A group of youths repeatedly engaged in public disorder, vandalism and acts of indiscipline that are not specifically covered by fixed punishments in Islamic law

Some community members demanded immediate punishment, while others insisted that all cases should be handled according to Islamic legal procedures and standards of evidence. To educate the public, the district Qadhi invited students of Islamic law to explain the principles involved.

Task

As one of the invited students, write an essay explaining how Islamic law would deal with each of the above cases. Discuss the categories of punishments involved, the conditions required, the principles of justice observed, and the evidence necessary before judgment can be passed.

Item 5

On 8th March 2026, during International Women's Day celebrations, a national television station aired a panel discussion entitled "Women and Human Rights in Modern Society."

During the debate, some panelists claimed that Islam discriminates against women and limits their participation in social, economic and political affairs.

The discussion attracted widespread attention across Uganda. Many students and members of the public expressed confusion due to the conflicting views presented. As a result, your school organized an educational seminar to promote a better understanding of Islamic teachings regarding women.

Task

Prepare an informed essay for presentation at the seminar explaining the status, rights and responsibilities of women in Islam. Support your discussion with evidence from the Qur'an, Hadith and relevant historical examples from the life of Prophet Muhammad (PBUH) and early Muslim society.
